

EXPIATING CRIMES.

Zach Taylor Dies Declaring His Innocence to the Last. SELF-CONTROL TO THE END. Many Are Ready to Fill the Offices of Old Fayette County.

NEWS FROM ALL OVER THREE STATES

Waynesburg, April 9.—In the Sheriff's office at Waynesburg a bright-eyed boy of 8 years attracted much attention. He had come to say goodbye to his father, whose life was to be expiated on the gallows. Zach Taylor arose early this morning and partook of a hearty breakfast, after which the Rev. James A. Maxwell, his spiritual adviser, had a talk with him.

At 11:30 the procession moved from the jail to the scaffold, where seats were taken. When asked if he had anything to say Taylor replied: "Gentlemen, I am innocent of this crime. God knows I am innocent. I never saw the man in my life. I was not out of Massontown that day. I am innocent, and I want you men to listen to what I say. God knows I am innocent! I have nothing to fear before God."

Rev. Mr. Maxwell now led in prayer, after which the condemned man bade goodbye to all on the scaffold. The Sheriff adjusted the rope and put the cap over Taylor's face and then sprung the trap. It was 11:32 when Taylor fell, and in 12 minutes life was pronounced extinct by the physicians, when it was clear down and taken charge of by his brother. The funeral services will be conducted at Massontown today by Rev. Mr. Maxwell. The crime for which Taylor was the murderer of McLansland. Sheriff John J. Goodwin is arranging the way in which he conducted the execution.

A dispatch from Edinburg says: Charles Carter, condemned to death for the murder of John Matthews in a disorderly house, expired his crime on the gallows at 11:51 P. M. At 11:58 Sheriff Steinman ascended the scaffold, leading the condemned man. The Rev. Mr. Bowman and a prayer for the condemned man made a brief speech, thanking the jail officials for their kindness and warning those who heard him not to do as he had done. He then solemnly bade the minister and the Sheriff farewell. The Sheriff bound him, adjusted the noose, put on the black cap, and all others retired. The trap was sprung at 12:01, and the neck was not broken, and eight minutes after the drop fell the pulsations were 44 to the minute.

Carried to a nearby dining with Sheriff Steinman at 12:30. He ate lemon pie, crackers, coffee and oranges. A Belleville special says: Andrew, the murderer of Clara Price, expiated his crime today on the gallows in the midst of a pouring rain. The scene was very greatly crowded last night and this morning, as passes were given out by the wholesale, over 800 attending his execution.

HIS LAST MEAL.

Andrew arose at 6 o'clock and ate a hearty breakfast, then heard the death warrant read at 8, and afterward prepared himself for execution. The march to the scaffold began at 10:45, the regular order of procession being followed. On the scaffold Andrew read a chapter from the Bible, spoke a few words and prayed. After bidding all goodbye he was bound and the black cap was drawn down over his face.

The drop was sprung at 11:51. He emitted a few gurgle, and then hung limp, and was pronounced dead at 12:01. He was buried in the morning at 10:30. The body was given to the Rev. Mr. C. A. DeWitt, who maintained throughout the whole affair. The body was taken care of by the undertaker, and will be buried near Millersburg, as the committee here desire to receive it.

A special telegram from Easton says: William Bartholomew was hanged here this morning. The drop fell at 10:45 o'clock. At 10:45 Bartholomew was pronounced dead, and the body was cut down. His neck was broken.

PEACEFULLY TO THE SCAFFOLD.

Although Bartholomew had threatened to give the Sheriff trouble and to get the noose, he walked to the scaffold quietly, and with a firm step. All of the arrangements had been completed. His last words were mixed with violent oaths and blasphemous language. The drop fell in the presence of a thousand persons and during a heavy shower of rain. A minute later, after the drop had fallen, a slight nervous twitching of the body was noticeable, but there was no other sign of distress or suffering. Immediately after Bartholomew had been pronounced dead, the body was placed in a black suit, placed in a coffin and carried to the home of his family at Weavertown, where the funeral will take place next Sunday. Bartholomew behaved well during the morning, but refused to attend to the duties of the ministers in prayer. Religious services were, however, held in his cell. Just before the arrival of the Rev. Mr. Simpson, who is a Unitarian, he said: "As sure as there is a God in heaven, I am as innocent of the shooting as you are."

A FIGHT FOR DELEGATES.

Some Fayette Republicans Prefer Delamater and Others Montooth. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

UNSTOWN, April 9.—There is a quiet but determined war waging in the Republican ranks in this county between the Bally and Ewing factions of the party. The whole trouble is as to who shall control the delegates to the state convention. The Bally faction are for Delamater, and the Ewing faction for Montooth. "If the delegates are instructed to support Delamater," said a Bally man today, "then I will concede the Bally man to top in this county. But you will find that there is a strong feeling in favor of Montooth. Not that he is a better man than Delamater, but because the Republicans of this county are becoming disaffected with the manner in which the official patronage has been distributed."

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

Robbins, who has heretofore had charge of the job printing establishment. Also, the Erie Dispatch newspaper, which was organized here today, with Hon. Matthew Griswold as President. A large factory has been leased and business will be begun at once.

HORSE THIEF WANTED.

William Simpson Said to Have Committed Many Offenses at Mt. Pleasant. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

SCOTTSBURG, April 9.—Constable Thompson of Mt. Pleasant, is here to-night looking for a peddler named Simon Brockman, who is wanted on a charge of horse stealing and numerous other offenses. It is alleged that Brockman has been defrauding the people of that section in various ways. Yesterday he hired a horse and buggy from William Simpson, proprietor of the Jordan House, and has not been heard of since. He had a horse in Washington, D. C. The horse is valued at $200.

PLENTY OF CANDIDATES.

Lively Hunting for the County Offices in Old Fayette. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

SCOTTSBURG, April 8.—The Democratic officeholders of Fayette county, inspired by the success of the party last fall, are out in full force, and all think they will be nominated at the primary election, which takes place May 31. Following is a partial list of candidates: For the Legislature, M. F. Kane, James J. Keegan, Charles S. Beatty and Joseph A. McKee; for Prothonotary, Henry A. Witt, the present incumbent; for Register and Recorder, J. V. Craft, A. A. Poundstone, W. D. Colburn and R. H. Anderson; for Treasurer, John Thronwell, Robert Hagan, S. S. Douglas, Benson L. Miller.

SAVING THE LUMBER.

A Company Formed to Save the Logs From Being Lost in the Flood. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

PENFIELD, April 8.—When the flood occurred last May which deluged Johnstown and devastated the valley of the Susquehanna the boom at Williamsport broke and millions of dollars' worth of logs were allowed to rush down the river. It was expected to bring them back and not let them go to sea. To avoid loss by either process the Pennsylvania Lumber Company was formed, its object being to catch the logs and put them up somewhere about tide-water. Agents were sent around during the lumber season who have made up losses and the logs were purchased at the cost of about $1,000,000. Erective mills were erected at Sparrow Point, near where the Pennsylvania Steel Company has located its works, and the logs are now being stored up there. It is a daring enterprise, but it is estimated that it will net its projectors several million dollars.

WHAT IS THE LAW?

This is the Question Mr. H. Stevenson Wishes a Decision on. WASHINGTON, Pa., April 8.—The question as to whether a railroad company has the right to designate the length of time full fare regular tickets are valid is to be tested here Saturday. Mr. H. Stevenson, a young lawyer of this place, was returning from Pittsburgh on the Chartiers Railroad, and presented the coupon of a regular ticket as valid. It was issued Saturday, "Good for 30 days after date," and Mr. Stevenson's was outside of that limit. The conductor refused to accept it, and Mr. Stevenson refused to give anything else. Upon this the conductor put off the train, and all full fare tickets are good until used, and the company's policy is to issue single and says he will enter suit against the company for damages.

MEETING OF THE K. OF L.

Master Workman Kerfoot's Plan is to Establish a Public Library. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

SCOTTSBURG, April 8.—The Executive Board of the Knights of Labor met here today. Important business was transacted, but it was not the public meeting which was expected. It is being held at Mt. Pleasant and Master Workman Kerfoot and Secretary Parker are the only ones present. The plan is to establish a public library in all the K. of L. halls in the county. The meeting was very successful and interchange ideas for the betterment of their condition. The quarterly convention of the Knights of Labor will be held here tomorrow.

THE TERROR CONTINUES.

Conductors Still Scared, But Officials Say There is No Cause for Fear. The wholesale discharges of conductors on the Panhandle road has filled the others on all the Pennsylvania Company's lines with consternation. It was reported yesterday that five more heads were to fall on the Fort Wayne, and that four conductors, two passenger brakemen and a baggage-master, were to be discharged from the West Penn. A visit was made to the various depots, but the men there refused to substantiate the report. At the general offices of the Pennsylvania Company, yesterday, it was stated: "We do not know of any more men to be discharged. No conductor should remain on the lines unless he is a competent man. It is the policy of the Pennsylvania Company to be suspicious of their men. It observes civil service reform in the promotion of men for faithful duties. It endeavors to make the pathway of the men pleasant. Its policy is conservative in any radical move. No general officer or any other general officer acting and making for himself would do anything so radical without consulting the other officials and making a full and thorough investigation. All Mr. Ford's subordinates know him to be a liberal man and a gentleman, both in personal treatment and his conductors to give him liberal compensation as is practicable. He, as well as the other officers, are glad to see men rise to the responsible position of conductor, and would rather retain all the old men than discharge them. The conductors are being discharged for sufficient reasons, and it would not be to their interest to have matters investigated."

A Southside Land Scheme.

The committee appointed about two weeks ago to examine the title to the Noble farm and attend to other preliminary matters in the interest of the 50 business men of the Southside who compose the Harvest Land Improvement Company will report this evening at a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Turner, Hall. A permanent organization may be organized, and the work of improving the property be commenced.

Indigestion

Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For several years I suffered untold agony, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food I digested, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."
